

DSR offers an integrated safety system to assist in the establishment of a total safety management program. We believe that OSHA compliance is just the beginning of a process that can reduce work place injuries and positively impact your bottom line. Our system is based on the belief that safety is managed at the same level and commitment as production, quality, sales, and maintenance processes. DSR adheres to strict safety management ethics and will assist your company in developing a safety management process.

Jason LeMasters, Division Manager of DSR is a “hands on” safety professional with the ability to communicate with all levels of the organization. With over 15 years of industrial safety experience, his expertise is in safety and health training and program implementation.

When it comes to safety management, people play a huge role. Without productive employees, your operation is not efficient. DSR understands the importance of your commitment to protecting your greatest asset and the importance it plays in your company’s success. Injuries, accidents, property damage, and OSHA citations increase operating costs. Medical and workers’ compensation cost employers billions of dollars each year in the United States. Now, more than ever, a safety program will save money. By establishing an effective safety management process you can control those costs. Dynamic Safety Resources can help.
